VOLUME III, No. 19

Wednesday, March 4, 1981

It was a busy Saturday for Don and Reg Booth, left, as they processed licence renewal forms for motor vehicles. They handled close to 100 applications on Saturday, down somewhat from the 250 received Friday. Don Booth described the last minute rush as "about average" compared with other years. He noted that 50 to 60 individuals decided to wait until the rush was over, and stopped in Monday for the renewal stickers. Drivers caught on the road with 1980 validation stickers on their licence plates are liable for a fine under the provisions of the Highway Traffic Act.

Club to get new roof

The Minden Curling Club is going to get a new roof.

Representatives of the club and the contractor, Ray Knight Construction of Orillia, reached the agreement last week after a meeting was held at the new facility. The results of the agreement were announced at a special gathering of curling club members Wednesday evening.

According to club president Jim Garbutt, the club was presented with three options to correct the leaking roof. He said there was a possibility of having another coating placed over the original roof to seal it, repairs to the damaged panels or having an entire new roof installed. Garbutt said the contractor was opposed to the second option because he felt that close to two-thirds of the roofing panels were incorrectly installed.

The club representatives opted for the entire new roof and work is expected to begin as soon as weather conditions permit. There is a three week waiting period while the material is being ordered.

The president said that when the roof is being replaced, the insulation which has been soaked with water will be examined. If it is felt the insulating value of the material has been lost, that too will be replaced. Garbutt pointed out that the insulation may still be useful once it has dried out and any decision on replacing all or part of the material in the roof will have to wait until it is inspected.

A meeting of close to 50 members of the curling club Wednesday evening were told of the decision. Those in attendance also quizzed club executives about problems during the construction of the new facility and other club matters.

Deficit blamed on water line extensions

The cost of extending the Minden water system in 1978 has been blamed for the current deficit position of the water budget. That point was made during a presentation to Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council February 25 as they met with representatives of their auditing firm.

The councillors were told that areas where the water line was extended generate $8100 in revenue while the yearly cost to pay for the installation amounts to $23,000.

The water lines were extended in 1978 along various sections of the by-pass Bobcaygeon Road north, Orde Street and Teesdale Street among others.

Peter Carroll of MacGillivray and Company, the township's auditors, presented the breakdown in costs to the councillors. He had appeared before the council in late December with a preliminary appraisal of the water and sewer systems and was asked by the members to return with a detailed examination of the financing of the two systems.

Carroll said the fact the deficit is being created by the extensions could be the responsibility of the Ministry of the Environment. The provincial agency installed the new water lines and established the rates which property owners would have to pay to return the capital outlay which was made. Since the rate does not return the needed revenue to cover the yearly capital cost of the new water lines, the system is faced with a yearly deficit of close to $15,000, Carroll told the meeting. The water system in total is also generating a $7500 operating deficit he pointed out.

At the moment the water system has an accumulated deficit of $33,000 and the auditor said he expected another $8000 to be added to that amount this year. Carroll noted however, that the municipality has some $54,000 in prepaid frontage charges from both systems. This money is being used as operating capital from year to year and will cover the accumulated deficit if the size of that deficit is not allowed to increase.

Carroll suggested the council should discuss the matter of the capital deficit with the representatives of the Ministry of the Environment. He said they might be able to change the terms of the capital cost repayment system to more accurately reflect the cost to the municipality.

As to the operating deficit, the auditor said the council could eliminate that by raising water rates some 25%. At the moment the average residential customer is paying $73 for water service while a 25% increase would represent an $18 hike.

Carroll said the residents of the community should realize they are not being unfairly treated. He said the water rates should have been increased gradually during the past few years but they were not, leading the current deficit position.

Councillor Lyle McKnight told the meeting he expected an increase of 50% would have been needed to get the water system out of the red ink. He appeared relieved that only a 25% hike would be required.

According to the auditor, one of the reasons the township's water and sewer systems were suffering financial problems was that these sectors were not receiving their share of the provincial grant. He pointed out that the province provides each municipality with a grant based on the revenue it generates. This includes taxes, fines, fees and charges for water and sewer services. He said the revenue from these systems represents about 17% of the income realized by the township and so 17% of the grant from the province should be used to support these services.

Carroll told the councillors that by applying that portion of the provincial grant from the last three years and the 1981 portion, the sewer system will be in a surplus position while the water system deficit will be greatly reduced. He pointed out however, that taking the 17% from the general fund and transferring it to the water and sewer accounts will mean the general fund will have to raise that extra amount or spending will have to be cut by that much.

The councillors seemed pleased with the explanation

Water meters considered by township council

The question of whether meters should be installed to measure individual residence and commercial establishment water consumption was considered at some length during the February 25 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council. The matter was raised in conjunction with a review of the water system's financial problems.

Reeve Lloyd Walker told the meeting he was in favour of having meters installed in the village. "It is certainly a lot fairer way of assessing costs," he said. "If we could afford it I would like to see the entire community on meters."

Township auditor Pete Carroll described the suggestion as one which would require a cost-benefit analysis, to determine if the additional expense of purchasing and installing the meters could be recouped at a reasonable rate. The meeting was told by the clerk-treasurer, Elinor Burke, that meters for the water system would cost approximately $100 each and would require provided by the auditor, not so much for what the figures revealed, but because the financial state of the water and sewer system was clarified. "It is beginning to make sense now for the first time," Councillor Ed Pergolas commented.

an installation time of one hour.

At the moment water charges are assessed on a unit basis. A residential user is assessed at three units while commercial establishments generally have a higher number of units depending on the estimated water usage. The assigning of the number of units is done in reference to a list.

Councillor Ed Pergolas questioned the validity of some of the ratings on the list and suggested that the council review the entire assessment process. He said the list was out of date.

Councillor Lyle McKnight told the meeting that he felt meter installation was too expensive and the council should reject the idea. Councillor Larry Cummins suggested that if the council were to consider meters, they should be installed at commercial establishments only.

The matter was left unresolved but it appears likely it will be raised for further discussion at later meetings.

February weather

by Phil Graham

	C	F
Average high	.8	33.4
Average low	-9.8	14.9
Average for the month	-4.5	23.9
Average for February 1980	-11.2	11.8
High temperature (Feb. 22)	9.5	49.1
Lowest temperature (Feb. 5)	-34	-29.2
Snowfall	54 cm	21 in.
Rainfall	58.8 mm	2.3 in.
Snow on ground Feb. 28	average 16 cm	6.2 in.
Snow on ground Feb. 28/80	32 cm	12.5 in.
Total snowfall to date	237 cm	93 in.

We were exposed to both extremes of weather during the month of February. The first half of the month was cold and winter-like while the last half featured warm temperatures and spring-like conditions. Many above average temperature records were broken in that time. The accumulation of snow dwindled from 30 inches to nothing in two weeks. Despite the warm weather there is still a great deal of snow in the bush in the northern portion of the county.

Rainfall for the month was above average while the snowfall recorded was below average.

Several areas east of the county reported flood conditions due to the fast melt. Areas along the Burnt River were hit by the rising water.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

We have a busy Spring coming up this year and thought it might be a good idea to use the column this week to review some of the upcoming dates we have planned. Pick out the items that concern you and march them on your calendar now.

Wednesday, March 4th - (that's today) - Chamber Board of Director's meeting. The Chamber Board meets on the first Wednesday of every month at various locations. Members are always welcome to attend meetings if they so desire and may obtain the location for any particular meeting by calling the Chamber office at 286-1760.

Wednesday, March 18th - The Haliburton County Economic Development Commission meets the afternoon of the third Wednesday of each month and usually at the Dysart Council Chambers. If you have concerns or ideas you would like to have the commission place on their agenda phone the Chamber office to talk to one of the members of the commission and we'll be glad to arrange it for you.

March 20th to 29th - The Toronto Sportsmen's Show. We will be back at our regular spot, booth W-31 and are still accepting members participation in the booth. You may have your brochures in the booth for the duration of the show for a rack fee of $25.00 or spend two days in the booth with us promoting your business plus the literature distributed throughout the show for $75.00. We limit participation to only one member in a particular type of business each day so call and let the office know if you wish to participate in either way.

April 1st - Chamber Director's Meeting

April 6th - Small Business Development Corporation Workshop - The Haliburton County Economic Development Commission have arranged with Dave Crawford, Manager of the Advisory Section of the Ministry of Industry & Tourism to provide us with details of how to start a Development Corporation here in Haliburton. There are excellent tax advantages to individuals who invest money in such a corporation and if such a group is formed it could provide the capital required to finance some of the ideas that have appeared to be viable but require this support.

April 8th - Roast the Chamber Night at the PineStone Inn. The Chamber will by this time know what budget they have to work with over the next year and will briefly present their marketing plan for that time period. The balance of the evening will be devoted to hearing your beefs, complaints and concerns and the full board of directors will be present to deal with them. Don't miss this chance to let us know what we should have done, should be doing and why.

April 15th - Bookkeeping Seminar - A one day at the PineStone Inn. The F.B.D.B. are presenting this excellent workshop in co-operation with the Chamber and we highly recommend it to those who are wrestling with a set of books and have not had any formal training. This one day crash course will assist you in many ways to understand the procedures and adapt them to your business. This is the only F.B.D.B. workshop planned for our area this year.

April 16th - Chamber Snowmobile Meeting - The Chamber and the H.C.S.A. are holding this meeting to explore ways of acquiring the necessary funds to provide the quality of trails that are needed to encourage tourism in our county. With traffic increasing and grants decreasing the problem is a growing one that must be faced. Those with positive ideas are most welcome to attend - 7:30 p.m. at the PineStone Inn.

May 11th - Starting a Small Business Workshop - The Haliburton County Economic Development Commission have arranged with Mr. Bob Pollock of M.I.T. to present this very worthwhile evening. If you have ever considered going into business for yourself, or have recently done so you will find out about the many pitfalls and how to avoid them and how to plan for future expansion and progress. Call the Chamber office to register in advance. There is no charge to attend.

March 8th - Scheduled date for our new toll free line to go into effect. We still have room for a few more members to make use of the line at only $50 per month. Call the Chamber office at 286-1760 for more information. The toll free number once again is 1-800-461-7677.

A new scoreboard was installed Monday at the Minden Arena. The new board indicates the time left in the game, the period, the score and the time remaining in penalties to members of the opposing teams. The scoreboard was donated by Cavalier Beverages of Peterborough.

County request for more police rejected

A delegation of Haliburton County politicians has been unsuccessful in convincing Attorney General Roy McMurtry that more Ontario Provincial Police Officers should be assigned to the Minden detachment. The delegation, led by Warden Murray Fearrey and including Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lloyd Walker, Monmouth Reeve Keith Tallman and Stanhope Reeve Jim Harrison met with the minister in Toronto on Tuesday (February 24).

According to the Warden, the group was told there was nothing the minister could do since the freeze on manpower had been imposed by the cabinet and would require a cabinet decision to lift it. Fearrey said the minister pointed out that other areas of the province were experiencing similar problems and it would be unfair to move officers from one detachment to this one.

The provincial Cabinet placed a freeze of 4000 officers on the OPP force in 1975.

"There is no doubt the minister recognized our need for more manpower in the county," Fearrey stated, "especially during the summer months when the population swells with seasonal residents." He noted that while the growth of the force has been restricted since 1975, the population of the province has increased. "The population increase alone should have resulted in an increase in the police force," the Warden stated.

Fearrey said the county will have to continue to pursue the matter. "I will be suggesting to the members of council that letters be written to members of the Cabinet and the Premier to make them aware of our special need in this county. Law and order is an important priority here."

The Warden said that an effort will be made to contact other areas which are experiencing similar problems with undermanned OPP forces to see if pressure cannot be brought to bear collectively on the Cabinet for a change in policy.

Fearrey noted that one Cabinet minister, James Snow who heads the Ministry of Transportation and Communications, has indicated that more officers are needed to police the four lane highways in the province. Apparently his request has also been placed on hold by the Cabinet.

The Warden described the delegation's trip to Toronto as an "unsuccessful effort". The county politicians were unable to convince McMurtry of the need in the county and the local request might now be viewed in Queen's Park as a priority, but until the full Cabinet lifts the hiring ban, it is highly unlikely the size of the local detachment will be increased.

Snowdon council increases stipend

The following are items taken from three February meetings of the Township council of Snowdon.

The members of the council have approved an increase in the rates of remuneration for 1981. The reeve will receive $2000; deputy reeve $1800 and councillors $1600.

-In a split vote, the rates for building permits in the township were increased. For permits of an estimated value up to $5000 the fee will be $10; $5001 to $15,000 the fee will be $25; from $15,001 up the fee will be $50. All members of council except Reeve Bob Vick voted in favour of the motion.

-The council has agreed to purchase a photo copier for the municipal office. The machine will be purchased from 3M Canada Limited for $2995.

-The 1981 road budget was set with $87,038 being the figure for the year. Application will be made to the Ministry of Transportation and Communication for a subsidy based on that expenditure. In addition a supplementary subsidy of $5600 will be applied for to be used for special construction purposes.

-A meeting was scheduled with the Minden Recreation Committee to discuss increased charges for non-resident children participating in figure skating and minor hockey at the Minden arena. A meeting is also to be scheduled with representatives from Somerville Township regarding the cessation of a fire protection agreement in 1982.

Maybe it's time you jumped into something more demanding than a car pool.

Oshawa to Minden - the long way

As most people are aware, it is not that far from Oshawa to Minden. But for one piece of correspondence, the trip between the two centres became somewhat of a world tour.

In mid-December an Oshawa friend of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Homestead mailed her Christmas cards for the season, including one for the couple who operate the Schnitzel House on the by-pass. While the card did not have the usually accepted address, the information on the envelope appeared adequate for anyone in the Oshawa post office with a limited knowledge of local geography. The address on the envelope read:

Mr. & Mrs. Otto Homestead
Minden R.R. #1
By Pass 35
(Schnitzel House)

However, rather than sending the letter north to Minden, the post office in Oshawa forwarded it to Switzerland. It was post marked in Zurich and then forwarded to Amsterdam, Holland. Postal authorities redirected the letter back to Canada where a note was written on the envelope suggesting that the post office try Minden, Ontario.

The letter arrived in the Homestead's post box last week, more than two months after it had left Oshawa.

Mrs. Homestead says she does not blame the post office for the circuitous routing. "I think they did a good job of getting the letter here once it got off track," she commented. "What puzzled me is why it was sent to Switzerland or Holland as there are no Mindens in those countries. There is a Minden in Germany, however," she pointed out.

For now the Homesteads are pleased to have received the Christmas card from their friend and have stopped chiding her about forgetting to send them traditional season's greetings.

Centre funds still coming

Contributions to the Minden Library-Cultural Centre fund are still being received and accepted by the building committee.

Recently a donation of $500 was received from Imperial Oil, and an anonymous donation of $5100 among others. Wintario has pledged $25,000 to the project and the County of Haliburton will be donating $3000.

A spokesman for the library-cultural centre noted that name plaques are still on sale. These will be attached to the wall just inside the front door and will be attractive mementos of individual contributions. The plaques are selling for $10 each. Anyone wishing to purchase a plaque may do so by sending their contribution to Box 648, Minden.

Meeting Monday evening, the building committee finalized details on a number of aspects of the building and tenders will be let soon for floor coverings, interior decorating and other finishing touches.

Since being elected in 1975, John Eakins has assured the services of Queen's Park are available to the average citizen.

Providing a deterrent

Queen's Park has rejected Haliburton County's request for increased manpower for the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. The response from Attorney General Roy McMurtry should not have surprised the delegation from the county nor area residents.

The politician claimed, what everyone knew before the delegation arrived, that his hands were tied by the 1975 Cabinet order placing a manpower freeze on the provincial police force at 4000. He pointed out, and rightly so, that only the Cabinet could lift the restriction.

However, the Cabinet imposed limitation also gives McMurtry a convenient excuse to hide behind, especially during an election campaign.

It is easy to pass the blame onto a group of individuals rather than accept individual responsibility for the decision. McMurtry serves a dual role in the Ontario Cabinet. He is the Attorney General, responsible for the administration of justice in Ontario, and is also the Solicitor General, which gives him responsibility for the provision of policing the province. In these positions he should be well aware of the problems created, not only here but in other parts of the province, by the OPP manpower freeze. He is also the individual who would carry the most influence in any attempt to convince the other members of the Cabinet that the ceiling should be lifted. His attempt to pass the blame onto the entire Cabinet appears rather lame.

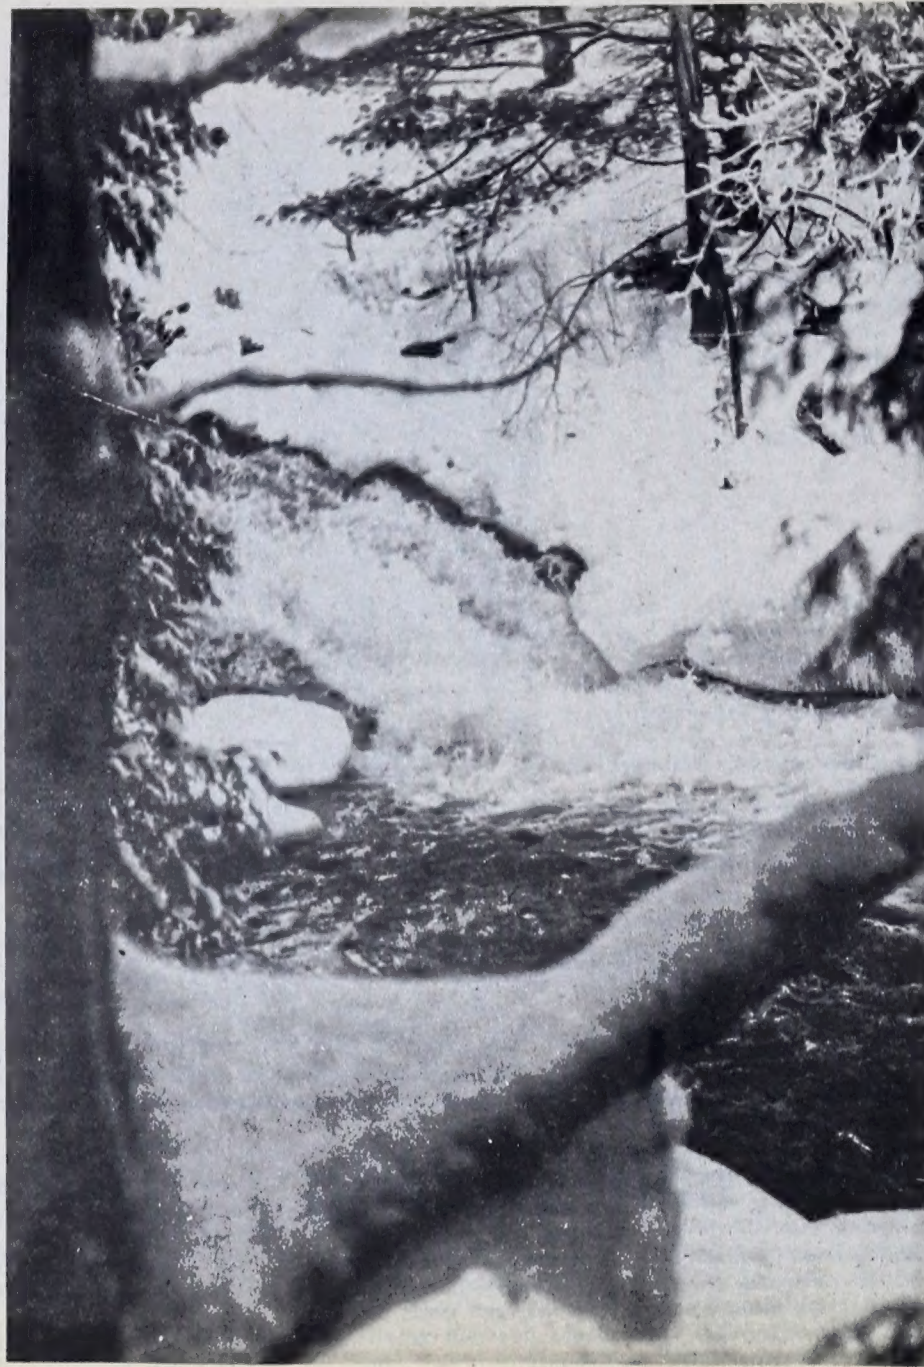

The decision has been taken however, and there appears now to be little the county can do to remedy the situation other than continue to press their case in Toronto with the Premier and other members of the Cabinet.

One step which could be taken locally is for the concerned municipalities to start a night patrol of the core areas. The individual on such a patrol could check building security, watch for people loitering in the area, by his presence, be a deterrent to potential criminals.

We are not suggesting a second police force for the county. Nor do we propose the patrolman have the powers of a police officer. Rather we see the person working in co-operation with the police, alerting them when needed and assisting in arrests or prosecutions as required.

Merchants have complained that potential criminals can act boldly in the county in the early morning hours because the active patrols of the area cease. By providing an all night patrol, perhaps shared between Minden and Haliburton Villages, on a regular but random basis, the number of crimes against commercial property can be reduced. Certainly the knowledge that someone of authority may be on patrol in either community would act as a significant deterrent to potential criminals.

Until the Cabinet finally decides to lift the freeze and the local detachment can be expanded to 24 hour patrols, it appears to be a reasonable alternative which local politicians should consider.

Spring run-off begins

REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT

by William C. Scott, M.P.

Prime Minister Trudeau told a Liberal audience in Vancouver last Thursday that he knows he is dividing Canadians and splitting our country by pushing ahead with his unilateral Constitutional proposals.

But, he said that he is not sorry about it, and in fact he stated that he finds it "exhilarating."

He added that, if the country breaks up over his efforts to push through a new Constitution, "then I say that it (the country) wasn't worthy of living another day."

That wasn't the statement of a democratically elected Prime Minister, it was the statement of a dictator, a person who does not care one bit that his proposal is opposed by a majority of the provincial premiers, and by at least two thirds of all Canadians.

Even more disturbing than the Prime Minister's arrogance was the fact that the 200 or so Liberals in his audience cheered his statement that the Canadian nation was not worth saving unless it accepted his new Constitution, together with his own amending formula and charter of rights.

It is clear that Trudeau would not be able to ride roughshod over our country and our people without the support of the Liberal Members of Parliament, and a majority of NDP Members.

And, it is also clear that the Liberal caucus in Parliament, and indeed Liberals across the country, must share the blame for the irreparable damage that is being done to our country and our institutions by Trudeau's arrogant and dictatorial actions.

Trudeau's Vancouver speech followed an earlier appeal to a Brandon, Manitoba audience that siding with Alberta against his proposals was against their own best interests.

So far the Prime Minister's western speaking tour has met with total failure, and he received another severe setback Thursday morning when Saskatchewan premier Allan Blakeney announced that he could not support the Constitutional proposal.

This means that Trudeau now faces a solid bloc of opposition in the western provinces. Progressive Conservative spokesman on the Constitution, the Honourable Jake Epp, said that he was pleased that Blakeney had finally taken a stand.

Epp criticized Blakeney, though, for fence-sitting for so long.

"If Blakeney had made his opposition known earlier," Epp said, "the Prime Minister would not be so far down the road with his abomination."

Antagonism by the forest industry to the establishment of wilderness parks is hardly new in Ontario, but industry's most recent tactic is - the use of paid "advocacy" advertising to present their case. In response to a proposed Whitewater Lake wilderness park near Armstrong, Great Lakes Forest Products this winter ran a series of four newspaper ads in northern papers. The ads are large, glossy, and more than a little slippery, but their central message is clear.

"Some of our canoe enthusiasts want to take over huge areas for single purpose use," says Great Lakes. "Withholding land from productive use is a cost we all must bear directly or indirectly." "To leave a forest area unmanaged can be self-defeating in the long term." The answer, in the minds of the forest industry, is multiple use - "a time for harvesting, a time for regeneration, and a time for recreation".

Unfortunately, the forest industry seems to have no time for conservation, and precious little for regeneration. The key idea behind wilderness is to set aside a few areas untouched by man to act as sanctuaries and as natural benchmarks for scientific study when all else has been harvested. The boreal forest ecosystem has taken 12,000 years to develop, and we are far from understanding all its workings. Is it prudent to wipe out this heritage entirely in a few decades?

Is it not also a trifle arrogant to suggest that an unmanaged forest is "self-defeating"? Are the forests of northern Ontario, developed through the millennia, really on the verge of collapse, just waiting for Great Lakes to rescue their vitality by clear-cutting? Given the record of Ontario's forest managers, who leave over 150,000 additional acres without proper regeneration each year, the hazards of management appear substantially greater than the hazards of untamed nature.

By portraying wilderness as simply an elitist recreation cause, and by blaming the shortage of industrial wood supply on parks instead of poor forest management, Great Lakes has missed the point. Sooner or later, we will be forced to stop squandering our northern forests and manage them responsibly. In my view, we should face that reality now, while we still have the opportunity to reserve a few wilderness areas for posterity in their natural state.

SECOND CLASS MAIL REGISTRATION NO. 0936

Revised development approved by council

A compromised plan for a subdivision on Soyers Lake has received the approval and backing of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council. The nod came at the February 25 meeting of the council.

Developer Verne Hodgson had proposed a 17 lot subdivision on the shores of the lake last year but was faced with a storm of protest from property owners in the area. Several delegations appeared before council last summer to complain about the plan and an Ontario Municipal Board hearing was scheduled to hear the grievances.

The hearing, set for early January, was cancelled at the last minute after the developer and the objectors apparently reached a compromise. The agreement included the reduction in the number of proposed lots from 17 to 12, a change in the layout of the subdivision and suitable protection for a stream which runs across the proposed development.

Hodgson's lawyer, D. Ewart of Orillia, appeared before the council Wednesday to seek the council's backing for the new plan. He told the meeting that the subdivision should receive swift approval from provincial authorities once the municipal endorsement had been given. He noted the details of the former subdivision had been studied by the provincial authorities when it was first submitted and approval was granted then.

He said with the only change being the number of lots, he did not expect any further delays. "We would like to be digging this spring," the lawyer told the councillors.

The council agreed to the change and passed a number of by-laws and resolutions indicating their support for the development.

The lawyer noted that the municipality had earlier agreed to take cash instead of the 5% of the development land for a park. He pointed out that if land were set aside for a park with public access to the water there would probably be renewed objections from the adjacent property owners. The council agreed that this condition would remain unchanged.

The council was less than enthusiastic however, when the lawyer suggested the municipality accept a number of lots in the subdivision as security pending the completion of the road. Most subdivision agreements require the developer to construct a road to municipal standards within a certain period of time and that the road be turned over to the municipality when completed. It is common practice for a municipality to request a bond or other financial security from the developer pending the completion of the road.

Ewart told the council that temporarily turning over a number of lots to the municipality would offer the same security. If the developer defaulted the township could sell the lots and use the money to build the road. He also pointed out that this process saves the developer money by having funds tied up in a bond or in paying for letters of credit. Ewart suggested this saving could then be passed on to the purchasers of the lots.

The councillors appeared to be reluctant to accept this proposal noting that it would probably take more than two lots to cover the cost of the road construction. The lawyer offered to provide as many lots as the council felt was necessary to protect their interest in the project, but the members of the council were still not interested.

Log builders meet

The Trillium Court of the Opera Hall in Gravenhurst will be the location of the third in a series of community oriented log-building workshops sponsored by the members of the Ontario Log-builders Association.

The event will take place Saturday, March 7, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The day's activities will include slide presentations of the latest in log and timber frame architecture, live demonstrations and discussion groups aimed at solving individuals problems. Professionals and owner-builders will be on hand to exchange information.

Lunch will be provided and pre-registration with a fee of

Letters from Lee

Lee Potter is a high school student from Minden who is spending a year in Mexico as a participant in an exchange program sponsored by Rotary International. Her participation in the program is sponsored by the Minden club. Lee has agreed to share her experiences in Mexico with our readers through the letters she sends home. The following are excerpts from a letter sent last month.

Everything is going great. I have just moved to my new family and I love it. We live in a colony just outside of the downtown area. The house is not overly large but is very comfortable. I have two little brothers, Sergio 12, and Chico 14. They were a little timid with me at first, but are much better now.

I also have a sister the same age as me. We knew each other before I moved in here. We share a bedroom. Her name is Ilena.

She studied last year in Miami, but still has difficulty with English because of the large number of Spanish speaking people in Florida. That is one reason why my mother would like Chico to go to Canada to learn English.

My sister does not go to the same school as I do. There are basically four high schools in Saltillo. The students from each school know the ones from the other schools since they attended the elementary schools together. But there are still constant conflicts and competitions between them. One of the larger conflicts centres around sports. A big fight started up between my school and another at a basketball game. My school usually gets the best of the fights, being the largest.

I spend a lot of time with my sister and her friends who are a lot of fun. My mother is great. She is kind of quiet and loves to sit and talk with me. The other day I went with her to a friend's house where we spent the evening crocheting. She spent the evening teaching me to crochet. She also helps me at night to practise reading in Spanish. Many of my relatives say I look like my sister or mother. My father owns a ranch which keeps him very busy. I've met my grandparents who are all very nice.

One thing I find strange here is the age at which people start to drive. They are supposed to be 19 to get a licence, but many don't have them, because they are either too young or can't afford them. My new little brother gives me rides sometimes and does it feel weird to be driven around by someone younger and under-age.

The Rotary Club had a big Christmas party in a small town just outside of Saltillo. We sang and danced. The exchange students sang some English Christmas carols for the party and then enjoyed a big dinner. They also had a dance competition, a combination of Mexican and disco dancing and my partner and I were declared the winners.

Christmas here is a little different than I'm used to. All of the festivities take place on the 24th and not Christmas Day. On the afternoon of the 24th I helped my mother prepare dinner. We had turkey, which she injected with white wine with a needle. It was then stuffed with ground meat, pieces of beef, almonds, raisins, onions and spices. Hmmm! Delicious. For dessert we had a Mexican candy, which is like a fudge with raisins and nuts in it.

At about 11 o'clock Christmas Eve everyone gets dressed up and goes into the living room where the Christmas tree is. We then listen to music and talk to all the relatives that visited for the evening. At midnight, everyone cheers, kisses everyone and wishes them a "Merry Christmas"... It is all kind of like new year's at home.

We then opened our presents. Very little stress is placed on giftgiving, so there are very few to open. Most of the gifts were the Canadian ones I had given to the members of the family. After we ate.

The dinner wasn't all that large, mostly turkey and dessert. After finishing up, my sister and I retired to bed, since by then it was fairly late. My brothers went outside to light off fire crackers in the street which is the custom. And my parents stayed up most of the night with our company. Christmas morning was just like any other day, except everyone slept in fairly late.

December 27 was the wedding of my sister from the first family. The mass was held in a church near my new home. The wedding party was small, no bridesmaids or ushers. My father gave away the bride and the groom was escorted up the aisle by his mother. The service was fairly lengthy.

The reception was held in the biggest hotel in Saltillo. Five different bands played during the night. I was only allowed out until 12 o'clock, so I didn't see all that much since we didn't start dinner until 11 o'clock. Dinner was chicken, rice and custard for dessert. The wedding cake was quite unique. It was four layers high decorated with red flowers, and in the centre was a water fountain, with real water and a red light shining on it.

My Spanish is really improving here in my new home. The other day someone asked me for directions on the street and I actually gave it to them. Usually I just say I don't speak Spanish.

On new year's eve I went to church with my family, ate dinner at about ten, then went to a fiesta with my sister. The celebration does not centre on the 12 midnight point as it does at home, and it was sometime after 12 that we toasted the new year. Someone played a tape of a clock chiming and on each chime you had to stuff a grape into your mouth. Each grape represented a month of the year. By the twelfth chime everyone's mouths were very full and we were trying desperately not to laugh at each other's swelling cheeks for fear of choking.

Later we all sat around and sang while someone played a guitar...

Last night someone sent the girl across the street a serenade. Three guys stood outside her window playing guitars until 1:30 in the morning.

Adios for now.

Farm news & views

A marketing board for beef cattle and advertising beef were the topics which created the most debate at the Ontario Cattlemen's Association annual meeting in Toronto last week.

The cattle producers in Victoria and Haliburton Counties were represented by a full complement of voting delegates. In addition, a number of Victoria County directors attended the meeting as observers. Close to 500 cattlemen from across Ontario were in attendance.

The debate on a marketing board was the highlight of the first day. One group of producers were very much in favour of a beef marketing board, while another group were equally adamant in opposing the idea. The majority of the delegates approved a resolution to have the Cattlemen's Association appoint a committee to study and develop a plan for the improvement of the cattle marketing system.

The Middlesex County Cattlemen conducted a pilot advertising project in the London area last summer. This has sparked considerable interest in more extensive advertising of beef by producers. The meeting approved the expansion of this project to other test centres, and with the advertising to take place over a full year. The funds for this will be raised through a small check-off on cattle marketed across the province.

The Beef Information Centre has developed a national survey of consumers to determine their beef buying and consumption habits. It was obvious from the preliminary results reported at the meeting, that many people are misinformed about the value of beef in our diets. It is hoped that an appropriate advertising campaign will help to overcome many of the barriers which keep people from using beef today.

The licence fee deductions on cattle marketed was changed to one fifteenth of 1% of the selling price. This fee provides the funds required to operate the various levels of the Cattlemen's Association and the many projects with which they are involved.

You Can Destroy Your Unborn Baby - It's Legal

Over 200 Canadian Children Were Lost Today

Canada's Record Is More Than 62,000 Each Year

(Note that we lost 39,000 soldiers during the whole of the Second World War - reference: Statistics Canada 1978)

Is it made morally right by calling these unborn babies - Embryo, Fetus, or Product of Pregnancy?

DO YOU REALLY CARE?

Do you care if a Winnipeg teaching hospital was keeping aborted babies alive for dissection? (Reference: Hansard Nov. 21, 22, 27, 1979)

In last week's edition we advertised the fact that in Haliburton County folk cared and were concerned about others. The obvious questions are - Do we still care? Do we care to become aware of what is really going on? Have you looked at the statistics? Can we justify the loss of 1/2 million Canadian lives - helpless and harmless in their mother's womb?

If you are concerned and want more information on this issue and how it affects you, please attend the seminar to be given at the High School on March 27, 7-9:30 p.m. and March 28, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. There are five 50 minute films dealing with all aspects of the ABORTION - INFANTICIDE - EUTHANASIA issue. A panel discussion will follow, involving local citizens from various professions to answer your fact-finding questions. This is not a debate. It is not to condemn anyone who has had an abortion; it is not meant to point a finger or stir up strife, however, can we justify these statistics and are there better alternatives? We believe we need to know the facts first and then decide whether we are obliged to take further action.

We are aware that this is a weekend and cuts into free time. However this issue vitally concerns you and your children -- so please organize your time to view the entire series and join hundreds of others who are concerned. This film is produced by two distinguished gentlemen who speak from a Christian background and base but they talk of an issue that concerns us all regardless of beliefs. As you read this notice today, remember, 200 more!

From tropics to x-country skis

When the so called "boat people" of Vietnam first started arriving in Canada some two years ago, there were dire predictions that the refugees would have trouble coping in their new home. In particular some people were concerned about the big difference in the climates between tropical southeast Asia and the Canadian winters.

While some refugees did experience climate, as well as culture 'shock', most quickly learned to cope and have integrated into the mainstream of Canadian society smoothly.

One such case in point is Khoan Pham who came to Canada as an unaccompanied minor and is living as a ward of Wendy Grater and Fred Loosemore at Camp Kandalore. Khoan arrived about a year ago...readers may recall a photograph of the 14 year old with Wendy and Fred collecting maple sap at the camp which appeared in The Times last March...and is one of the last Vietnamese to remain in the Minden area.

His adaptation to the Canadian climate and lifestyle has been relatively smooth and easy.

Khoan is a student at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden where he studies with the grade seven classes. He is also involved in activities at his home at Camp Kandalore, assisting with maintenance work there and taking part in various programs offered by the camp. Last summer for example, Khoan became a camper for eight weeks, moving out of his home and into a cabin with youths from throughout the world to take part in the regular camp program.

If there is one indication of his adaptability to the Canadian scene, it is his participation in winter sports. He has not shunned the outdoors and has eagerly taken part in winter activities.

An avid cross-country skier, Khoan recently participated in the Canadian Ski Marathon, a world famous event that draws participants from throughout the world. The two day event covers over 160 kilometres from near Montreal to Ottawa. While he was unable to complete the entire distance, Khoan did ski a 93 km stretch of the trail.

He had hoped to participate in other cross-country ski outings planned for Haliburton County this spring but the weather has resulted in the cancellation of most of those. Now, as he cleans his skis for the last time this year, he is looking ahead to summer. He recently acquired a bicycle and is talking of taking a cycling-camping trip with a friend.

Khoan has obviously found Canada a comfortable place to call home.

Khoan Pham has become an avid cross-country skier since coming to Canada from Vietnam a year ago.

Feminist featured on stamps

Four Canadian feminists, Henrietta Edwards, Louise McKinney, Idola Saint-Jean and Dr. Emily Stowe, will be honoured by postage stamps issued on March 4.

"In honouring these four remarkable Canadians, we recognize the significant role that women have played in the betterment of social conditions, and the progress achieved in the advancement of equality," said Mr. Ouellet, Postmaster General.

Henrietta Edwards was born in Montreal, Quebec, in 1849. After many years of study she became an expert on Canadian law and was one of the participants in the "Five Persons Case". This case confirmed that women were "persons" and had the right to wealth. Later she took part in the creation of the United Church of Canada, and was also a participant in the "Five Persons Case".

Idola Saint-Jean, who was born in Montreal, Quebec, May 19, 1880, devoted much of her efforts to gaining the vote for women in Quebec and to protesting women's inequality before the law.

Dr. Emily Stowe, the first Canadian woman doctor, was born at South Norwich, Ontario in 1831. Stowe crusaded vigorously for equal rights for women, especially the right to vote, and founded Canada's first woman suffrage society.

The stamps, which are the work of artist Muriel Wood, are based on portraits of these women, with vignettes sit in the Canadian Senate.

Louise McKinney was born in Frankville, Ontario, in 1868. After moving to Alberta she worked for the Women's Christian Temperance Union and in 1917 became one of the first women elected to a legislature in the British Commonwealth. The stamps, which are the work of artist Muriel Wood, are based on portraits of these women, with vignettes symbolic of their spheres of feminist activity. The typographic design is by Dennis Goddard.

There will be 22,500,000 of the 17-cent stamps printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company of Ottawa.

A balanced diet essential for good health

Join the battle for energy balance, urge food and nutrition specialists with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. March 2 to 7 is Nutrition Week, the first national celebration of fitness and food.

This year's theme is Energy In -- Energy Out. It spotlights the need to balance the amount we eat with the amount we expend.

Throughout life, activity levels change. The infant becomes a rambunctious toddler, a highschool football player, an active business man, an armchair quarterback, and then a retired gentleman of leisure. Another example is the desk-bound office worker who becomes a busy mother. These differences in energy output need to be balanced by an adjusted calorie intake.

Whatever the change required, eating habits should still follow Canada's Food Guide. The Guide includes all the groups necessary for good health: milk and milk products, fruits and vegetables, bread and cereals, meat and alternates. Choose anything from within each group. The wider the variety, the better for your overall health.

People have more problems when changing from an active way of life to a sedentary one because calories must be consciously trimmed. Remember to cut down, not out. Eat slowly and chew food well. Make servings smaller and avoid seconds. Watching television during meals may encourage you to eat more than intended.

Keep busy. A gentle sport helps keep your mind off food but even a good book will help. When the scales slip down a few pounds, reward yourself with some tennis lessons, a movie, or new clothing, rather than a double helping of french fries.

The problem of overweight is not always the result of overeating. People may consume a normal amount but still have problems if they are not physically active. Energy taken in as food should equal energy put out as activity.

Car takes bruising as it strikes bank

A collision between a car and an earth bank at the Corner of Bobcaygeon Road and Newcastle Street in Minden has resulted in $4500 damage to the car. No estimate was given on damage to the earth.

According to police, a car driven by George T. Bussey, 29, of Toronto, was travelling north on the Bobcaygeon Road when he attempted a right hand turn onto Newcastle Street. The vehicle failed to complete the turn and skidded into the earthen bank.

The driver was treated and released from Minden Red Cross Hospital.

Bussey has been charged with careless driving and failing to report an accident.

The incident was investigated by Constable Boyd Jarvis.

Car recovered

A vehicle stolen in Toronto was recovered by police in Haliburton Village this past weekend. The vehicle was valued by police at $12,000.

Police noticed the vehicle as it drove through the community early Saturday morning. Constable Mike Legge stopped the car and questioned the occupants. Upon checking with authorities in Toronto it was discovered that the car and the licence plates were stolen in Toronto. The driver of the vehicle, 16 year old William Ross Heaton of Scarborough was charged with the theft. Three other occupants of the car were not charged by police as it appeared they were unaware the car had been stolen.

Lengthy trail

A check by police in Haliburton has led to the arrest and conviction of a 17 year old following a series of break-ins.

The long and tangled trail began in Little Britain where Sean David Savage of no fixed address broke into a residence and stole a quantity of money, some clothing and a snowmobile. The youth proceeded north on Highway 35 on the stolen machine. He abandoned it in Eagle Lake where he broke into a cottage owned by Edward Gardiner of Lindsay.

The youth lived in the cottage for about a week using the accommodation as a base from which he carried out a number of other break-ins.

Savage was observed in Haliburton Village on a motorcycle he had stolen from the cottage. The police stopped him, but since the motorcycle had not been reported stolen, he was allowed to proceed. A check a short time later with the registered owner revealed the machine had been taken, and a warrant was issued for Savage's arrest.

By the time the warrant was issued, Savage had apparently driven to Bracebridge where he abandoned the machine and started hitchhiking to Toronto.

When the warrant was issued for Savage's arrest, the information was distributed to police forces throughout Ontario. Within two hours of that information being distributed the youth was picked up by Oak Ridges OPP as he thumbed a ride along Highway 400.

The youth was charged with possession of stolen property and breach of probation. He appeared in Lindsay Court February 26 and was sentenced to 18 months in jail.

The matter was investigated by Constable Al Bibby.

Tyke

In an exhibition game against their counterparts from Haliburton, the Minden Tykes defeated the visitors 3-1. Philip Boyle opened the scoring for Minden in the first frame on a pass from Aaron Hie. Jason Casey responded for Haliburton with the assist being credited to E.J. Debenham. Minden closed out the period with a goal from Aaron Hie and Jay Hughes picking up the assist.

There was no scoring in the second period. In the third Aaron Hie widened the lead for Minden scoring on a pass from Hunter Obee and Danny Potter.

Justin Gentle was playing his first game in nets for the Tyke team. The next game for the Tykes will be March 8 when the Orono team visits the Minden arena. Game time is 1 p.m.

Novice

Kent Taylor and Randy Bull scored the goals for Minden as they defeated Haliburton 2-1 in an exhibition game played Saturday in Haliburton. The Minden Novice team is currently awaiting an opponent for the consolation play-offs in their division.

Atom

The Minden Atoms faced Orono this past week in a series of games that were part of a round robin series. In the first encounter, February 23, the local squad went down to a 5-4 defeat. Scott Russell scored two goals for the Atoms, both unassisted. The other two Minden goals came from Dwayne Cooper assisted by Derek Allison and Jeff Francis from Dwayne Cooper.

In the second contest Sunday afternoon, Orono defeated the Minden Atoms 3-1. Scott Russell scored the only Minden goal with the assists being awarded to David Preston and Trini Elias.

The Minden Atoms have three more games to play in the round robin series. The next game is this Thursday evening (7 p.m.) against Sunderland, which currently leads the series.

Pee Wee

The Minden Pee Wees are also participating in a round robin series. On February 24 they were shut-out by Bobcaygeon 2-0 and February 26 they drew to a 2-2 tie with the same team. John Ballantyne and Darryl Ward were the marksmen for Minden.

Saturday in Minden the local Pee Wees downed the Sunderland team 7-4. Daryl Ward led the way for the Minden team with a hat trick, one of the goals being an unassisted effort. Other goal-getters included Tom Macleod with an unassisted single and two assists; Gord Wood with one and one; John Ballantyne with an unassisted goal; John Wells with a single; David Schell with two assists; and Scott Russell with a single assist.

Minden Pee Wees end the round robin series with a record of two wins, three losses and a tie and therefore are eliminated from the next series. Orono advances to the next round.

Bantam

It was 11 to 4 for Bobcaygeon as they took on the Minden Bantams in the local arena February 28. Scott Hamilton scored twice for Minden, one an unassisted effort. The other goal came with the help of Paul Walker. Other Minden scorers were Jeff Stamp, unassisted on a power play and Scott Yake from Rob MacLeod and Doug Schell.

Minden picked up 23 minutes in penalties plus a game misconduct with the visitors being assessed only eight minutes in penalties.

This ends the play-off series for the Bantams having finished the round robin series with a record of two wins and four losses. The Orono team advances to the next round.

Midget

The Minden Midgets knocked Sunderland for a loop February 23 as they captured a 7-4 victory.

Andrew Shapiera, Ivan Ingram and Kevin Hamilton led the way for Minden each netting a pair. One of Hamilton's goals was unassisted and came when the Minden team was short two players. The seventh Minden goal came from Greg Austin. Assists were credited to Craig Coneybeare with two, Ingram with a pair, Harold Cowen, Hamilton, Terry Allore and Jeff Stamp, each with one.

Minden picked up 12 minutes in penalties while Sunderland was assessed six.

The tables were turned Saturday as Sunderland defeated the local Midgets 4-2 in a game played at the Minden arena.

Ivan Ingram scored unassisted and Eldon Bull netted one from Bob Edge to round out the Minden goals.

In the final minute of the game Sunderland was playing with two men short, Minden pulled its goalie in favour of a sixth attacker, but the locals were unable to score.

This ends the season for the Midgets. They finished the round robin play-offs with a record of two wins and four losses.

Juveniles

In a fast skating exciting hockey game, Minden Juveniles downed Thornton 2-1 February 24. Bart Sedore put Minden on the scoreboard in the first period with an unassisted effort. Thornton scored in the second frame and Shaun Silvers added the winning goal in the third period. Assists in the Silvers goal went to Kevin Shapiera and Les Booth.

Thornton struck back Thursday evening, blanking the Minden squad 6-0. The loss was the third for Minden, in a best of five series and means Thornton advances in the play-offs.

Tournament

play in the one day event which begins Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

The line-up of opening round games include: 8 a.m. Minden vs. Baysville; 9:15 St. Andrews (Peterborough) vs.

Fenelon Falls; 10:30 Sacred Heart (Peterborough) vs. Cannington; 11:45 St. Giles (Peterborough) vs. Bobcaygeon. The championship games are scheduled for 6 p.m. and 7:15 p.m.

The schedule
Thursday, March 5: 7 p.m. - Sunderland Atoms at Minden.
Sunday, March 8: 1 p.m. - Orono Tykes at Minden.

Seniors host bonspiel

While Minden seniors curlers await their new rink, some 34 of them have been enjoying a great season of curling with Haliburton seniors as hosts.

Last Friday they held their "Super Seniors Mini Spiel" at Haliburton, hosting strong rinks from Peterborough, Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon to meet 3 Minden and 1 Haliburton rink.

Close games and fine curling, as well as great sociability when old friends met, made a fine day.

Peterborough's rink skipped by Don Slemmons, and a fine rink from Bobcaygeon skipped by Ross Forbert were 2 game winners, while Lorne Coburn and Tom Hurtt skipped Minden rinks to 1 win, 1 loss. Coburn was assisted by Herb Gill, Hal Burton and Herb Fisscher, and Tom Hurtt led Al Barron, Stan Blears and Garnet Campbell to an extra end win over Les Wallings rink, making a perfect button draw with his last stone. Walling had Tom Stinson, John Bassett and Jim Grant on his rink.

Two rinks from the club will be visiting Fenelon in March.

Our first local schedule, ending at Christmas, was won by Tom Hurtt's rink in a close run with H. Gill and Jim Burton. The second schedule was won by Lorne Coburn's four over Ed Pettinger.

Now the play-offs are on and winners in "A" and "B" groups will be known by March 19. Wind-up curling and dinner will be held March 26 to finish off a fine season of great (and some maybe not-so-great) curling and sociability.

The Haliburton seniors have enjoyed hosting Minden's fine group and we are sure the competition and friendships will endure forever. With Minden's beautiful new rink in operation next winter plans are for several inter-club competitions.

Appreciation goes to Ed Pettinger and Tom Stinson who have jointly looked after this season's arrangements.

Phone links "buddies" in new senior service

The Haliburton County Home Support Services is starting a new service for senior citizens. Called "Phone A Friend", the program matches seniors with another member of the community who will take a few minutes each day to contact the individual by telephone.

Home Support co-ordinator Marie Wallace described the service as an essential one, particularly in the winter when senior citizens are less apt to leave the home. "The service is particularly important, we feel,"

Wallace said, "for senior who are living alone."

The aim of the program is to ensure the seniors are in good health and do not need any special assistance. Wallace recounted a number of incidents from various centres in North America where a senior was injured and was unable to reach the telephone. The caller became suspicious when the individual did not answer the call, visited the home and discovered the situation. "If the person was not called or visited regularly, serious consequences could have arisen," Wallace noted.

She pointed out that in many cases this daily contact is being maintained by members of the family who live in the area. However, she also notes that many individuals have moved to the county to retire and, their local contacts may be limited. "It is these people, especially those who are widows or widowers, who we are hoping to help with this "buddy" system," Wallace comments.

The co-ordinator pointed out that in a number of instances in the county individuals have taken it upon themselves to call regularly. In one instance she notes that neighbours across a country road hang out a marker each morning as a signal that everything is okay.

Wallace notes that the phone call does more than provide a convenient method of checking on the health of individuals. "These seniors are most often the ones who have limited contact, especially during the winter months. The daily call from a friendly voice helps to dispel that isolation. Often a warm bond develops between the senior and the caller that extends beyond the telephone calls. Using the telephone is the easiest and quickest method of keeping in touch, but when the weather is pleasant, the contact is often maintained by a personal visit."

Seniors wishing to be paired with a volunteer caller are invited to contact the Home Support Services office in Haliburton. Individuals wishing to volunteer to provide this service should also contact the office at 457-2941.

Meals grant

The Minden-Carnarvon Highland Senior Services, a group organized under the Haliburton County Home Support Services, has received a grant to provide meals on wheels to seniors in this area. The grant was issued through the federal government's New Horizons program sponsored by the Health and Welfare Ministry.

The organization will be receiving $7,675 to help in delivering meals to seniors in the Minden and Carnarvon areas. The meals are delivered Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Seniors interested in taking advantage of this program can contact the Home Support Services at 457-2941.

We're open

The Minden Barber shop is now open at the old location beside Floyd Hall Real Estate. Open daily (including Saturday) to 6 p.m., Friday night until 9 p.m.

Gerald Cooper, Barber

It's been a busy week at Hyland Crest. Along with our regular activities, there has been a lot of preparation for the annual Formal Dinner which was held on Friday evening.

Monday's activities began with a good turnout at fun and fitness. We were pleased to welcome Ted Carr, who is a new resident to our group. We sincerely hope Mr. Carr will enjoy his new home here.

In the afternoon, the ladies went downstairs to work on their crafts. The ladies have finished their quilt, and it sure is a masterpiece. Mary Oliver, Lola Prentice and Millie Wood are responsible for this work of art, and are eager to start another.

Monday evening several residents gathered in the auditorium for the movies. "Wilderness Nomads" was a move all about a group of boys and girls challenging the wilderness. These children were from the city and found it enjoyable but difficult to exist in the wilderness.

Each child had a story of his own to tell.

"High Ride West" was a very good film. We watched all kinds of competition at the Calgary stampede, and enjoyed the breathtaking beauty of the scenery.

Tuesday morning, Rev. John James of the Haliburton United Church held service in the chapel. Rev. James is new in our area. We certainly enjoyed his message and will look forward to his next visit to Hyland Crest.

Later in the afternoon, all our bingo lovers gathered in the main lounge for a game. Our thanks to Joan Kernohan for helping us watch the cards.

In the evening our residents gathered in the lounge once again to enjoy an evening of organ music by Fred Ballard.

Wednesday evening the students of Haliburton High School were here to give their assistance for Games Night. The residents and students enjoyed an evening of euchre, scrabble, cribbage and crokinole.

The ladies of Eagle Lake Community Chapel brought a delicious variety of cookies and cakes for the Thursday tea party. This was a special birthday-tea party for all those celebrating birthdays in February. Special guests of honour were Bill Deacon, Ellen Johnston, Margaret Gainforth, and Ellen Knight. They were presented with a lovely gingerbread cake by the ladies. Our thanks to these nice people for making the tea party a special occasion.

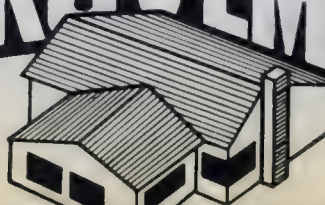

Friday afternoon, it was a pleasure to welcome Grace Coburn and Norma Barron to lead the sing song. Everyone had a good time singing the old favorites.

Later in the evening, our annual Formal Dinner was held in the auditorium. This is a special dinner that is held for the residents and their invited guests. The roast beef dinner was prepared and served by our own kitchen staff and was absolutely delicious.

After the meal we enjoyed an hour of entertainment by Marilyn Stouffer and Bill Gliddon.

Many thanks to these people for sharing with us their amazing talent, and for making it an evening to remember.

It will soon be Election Day, so check the lists and if you do not find your name, there is an 'Ad' in newspapers and you may phone there and get your right. If you want to complain about things, be sure and vote first.

The members of the L.O.B.A. had a card party at the home of Gladys Wruth on February 23 with winners being lone hands Earl Hewitt (on a cut) and others Catherine Kellett, Shirley Hewitt, Roy McDonald and Harry MacMinn. After the games all enjoyed the delicious lunch served by the ladies.

If you save money you're a grouch
If you spend it, you're a loafer;
If you can't get it, you're a bum;
So what's the use of worrying.

There was a goodly crowd of shoppers at Red and White on the main street last Thursday, Friday and Saturday with people getting some bargains.

March 9-14 will be FORGIVENESS WEEK at Minden Library with no fines on overdue books. After that time, borrowers cards will be sent to the Office so people will then be required to pay the cost of their "lost" books.

Shelly Russell and a friend from Whitby were recent guests with the Bob Hughes.

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Elwood (Randolph) McCracken whose funeral was last week.

We had a telephone call last week from the Klockkoffs and Kathy told me they had picked some pansies which were out in bloom that day February 24th. This might be something of a record, though we see some flower buds at the Post Office.

The annual invitation Dinner at the Hyland Crest on Friday night was delicious and entertainment that followed was by Marilyn Stouffer and Bill Gliddon.

Several people are in hospital or have returned home, these are Diane Stevens at Civic Hospital, Morris MacLachlin, Mrs. Tom Cox, and Helen Lee; hope you are all on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hurtta are home again after some time spent in Toronto, and we are pleased to report that their son Tom is making fine recovery.

There were two Second Chance Draws, a winner at Mac's was Diane Cowen and at Stedmans was Pat Ackersblade.

At the weekly Mini Card Party at the Parish Hall last Thursday afternoon, winners were for cribbage Jeanne Sears and Gladys Wruth and for euchre lone hands on a cut, Rheta Brown and Shirley Elcome and Harry MacMinn.

A friend is like an old song grown sweeter with the years - A friend is one who shares our joys and wipes away our tears. A friend will look for goodness in everything we do. A friend is one who knows our faults, yet finds our virtues too. A friend will share a crust of bread, or held to lift a load - Happy are we who find a few good friends along the road. It takes a year to make a friend; but you can lose one in an hour.

New arrival is a baby boy for Susan and Dave White, the Grands, living in town are E. Toots Miles, grandmother, Irene Miles, great grandmother and Kathryn Daniel great great grandmother. Five generations and Congrats to all.

We are also pleased to report that Rowland Sedgwick is home again and well on the recovery list.

Gerald Cooper was busy on the weekend as he had opened his Barbershop where his father Fred was so successful. He said he was open weekdays except Wed., so check if you need his service.

Here is an old Arab saying that is worth thinking about: "A real friend is a person to whom you can bring the contents of your heart, and empty them out - chaff and grain together. The gentlest hands will then take it and sift it, keeping hold of what is worth holding and gently blowing the rest away."

Hi! Well did March come in like a lamb or a lion? We had a bit of a snow storm in the morning but the rest of the day wasn't too bad.

Hope all the fish huts are off the lakes, as the ice is breaking away from the shores, so it will be kind of tricky getting them back to land.

Bob and Sheila Graham are home from South Daytona, Florida.

Bill Roodenburg spent the weekend in Toronto, visiting friends.

Smile a while Two men were on a duck-hunting trip, and on the very first morning the younger of the two shot a duck on his first try.

"How's that for a shot?" he boasted. "Oh, I don't know," came the reply, "the fall would have killed it anyway."

Hint of the Week Clean suede shoes, gloves, etc., by rubbing them with a thick slice of bread, soft dry sponge, or a cloth moistened with vinegar. Or you can rub them very gently with an emery board. Freshen up black suede by sponging it with black coffee.

On Saturday, February 28 at Timothy Eaton Memorial United Church the marriage of Lynne Hodgins of Minden to Robert Dunbar was solemnized by Rev. Stanley Lucyk. The bride was given in marriage by her father Al Hodgins. The maid of honour was sister Pamela Turton, the best man was Michael Fassano, cousin of the groom. The flower girls were Erin and Cristen Turton, nieces of the bride.

Every step of the way

One of the biggest steps your child will ever take is the first one. But others are coming up: College; starting out in business, marriage.

And as a parent, one of the smartest steps you can take is guaranteeing your child money when it's needed, even if you die.

Let me show you how Mutual Life can help you help your child every step of the way.
